

Skyland Fire

Photo Gallery

Firefighting on Division L

Taken on Division L of the Skyland fire, these photos illustrate the fuel types along the eastern edge of the Skyland Fire, the mosaic burn pattern leaving unburned fuels and the effectiveness of a fireline in stopping the fire in these fuel types.

A close look at this photo shows firefighters headed into division L carrying a variety of tools including chainsaws, shovels, and pulaskis.

Fireline in Division L

Click Photo For Enlargement

An illustration of some of the terrain as well as the mosaic burn pattern in Division L

Firefighting crew walking through a burned area in Division L

Firefighting on Division L

Click For Main Page

Photo 1

John Nokes, EMT
PNW Team 3
August 9, 2007

A close look at this photo shows firefighters headed into division L carrying a variety of tools including chainsaws, shovels, and pulaskis.

Firefighting on Division L

Click For Main Page

Photo 2

John Nokes, EMT
PNW Team 3
August 9, 2007

Fireline in Division L

Firefighting on Division L

Click For Main Page

Photo 3

John Nokes, EMT
PNW Team 3
August 9, 2007

An illustration of some of the terrain as well as the mosaic burn pattern in Division L

Firefighting on Division L

Click For Main Page

Photo 4

John Nokes, EMT
PNW Team 3
August 9, 2007

Firefighting crew walking through a burned area in Division L

