

Egley Complex Photo Gallery

Sharing information about Egley Complex with interested people on a local, regional and national level is done using a variety of venues. Radio broadcasts, public meetings, news releases, media contacts sharing information via the internet are some of the methods used.

Click on a Photograph Below to Access a Larger Version

A large map came in handy for those who attended the meeting at the Burns Paiute Tribe Community Center.

IC Jeff Pendleton presented information about the Egley Complex to the community at the Senior Center in Burns.

Information Officer, Tom Lavagnino, facilitated the community meeting at the Paiute Community Center. There were approximately 40 people in attendance.

IC Ken Paul shared information about Egley Complex fire operations via a live radio broadcast on KZZR, AM 1230. These live broadcasts have been occurring regularly.

The Community Center on the Burns Paiute Reservation was an ideal location for the community meeting on Thursday. The Fire Teams appreciated being hosted by the tribe for the meeting.

A large map came in handy for those who attended the meeting at the Burns Paiute Tribe Community Center.

Click to Return to Page 1

Photo by Mike Rice, Firefighter

IC Jeff Pendleton presented information about the Egley Complex to the community at the Senior Center in Burns.

Information Officer, Tom Lavagnino, facilitated the community meeting at the Paiute Community Center. There were approximately 40 people in attendance.

IC Ken Paul shared information about Egley Complex fire operations via a live radio broadcast on KZZR, AM 1230. These live broadcasts have been occurring regularly.

Click to Return to Page 1

Photo by Mike Rice, Firefighter

The Community Center on the Burns Paiute Reservation was an ideal location for the community meeting on Thursday. The Fire Teams appreciated being hosted by the tribe for the meeting.