

Smoke Synopsis

The Cabin Fire remains in the Golden Trout Wilderness. The fire was active along the southeastern edge yesterday afternoon. Transport winds continue to send smoke to the east and northeast during daylight hours, draining overnight into the Upper Kern River Valley down to Lake Isabella and other local drainages.

Smoke will also affect the Owens Valley from both the Cabin and the Rough Fires. Hazy conditions can be expected along the foothills from Springville south to the Lower Kern Valley. Conditions could improve Friday with the passage to the north of a weak weather system.
