

Outlook for NW California Fires

Smoke: Heavy smoke impacts are expected today in the Klamath River area due to several active fires in the region. Light northeasterly winds will drift smoke to the southwest and downhill into drainages. The majority of impacts will be in the Happy Camp, Seiad Valley, Orleans, and Sawyers Bar areas where unhealthy and very unhealthy conditions are expected. Heavy smoke will continue to drift down the Klamath River drainage affecting Weitchpec and the Hoopa Valley. Light smoke will reach coastal communities. The Scott Valley will see hazy conditions, with the worst air quality in Etna.

Fire: Orleans Complex: <https://inciweb.nwcg.gov/incident/5430/> Eclipse Complex: <https://inciweb.nwcg.gov/incident/5511/> Salmon/August Complex: <https://inciweb.nwcg.gov/incident/5501/>

Other: Potential for rapid fire growth today.
