Yesterday: The firefighters in the Ward Bowl area with the assistance of firefighters in the Camas Creek area observed some active fire behavior in an isolated pocket of fuel around midday, Helicopters were activated to begin bucket work in the area. Engine patrols in and around the fire's east and southeast perimeter continued to reinforce suppression work. Fire managers intend to continue patrolling and mop-up until they are confident that no re-ignitions near firelines or homes will occur.

Today: Last night's infrared flight showed a slight growth in the fire's acreage. The four acreage growth occurred mostly in the Sawtooth Canyon area. The five person crew in the Ward Mountain area with the assistance of firefighters in Camas Creek will continue to monitor fire activity as well as working to prevent the fire from moving outside the established fire perimeter. Aircraft will be seen over the area today as activity picks up. Engine patrols in and around the fire's east and southeast perimeter will continue to patrol around homes. Fire personnel intend to continue patrolling until they are confident that no re-ignitions near firelines or homes will occur.

Air Operations: Incident aircraft are providing tactical and logistical support as well as medevac capabilities should the need arise. Aerial resources, both rotor and fixed wing, continue to be available for use both on this incident and for initial attack. A Temporary Flight Restriction (TFR) remains in effect over this fire. It has been reduced in size to match the perimeter of the fire. Please check with the FAA or your local flight service station prior to flying in the area of the fire.

Weather and Fire Behavior: Clear and sunny weather is forecasted with a high in the 90s and humidity in the teens. Winds will be out of the west at 5-15mph and gusts up to 20mph. The dry cold front passing through the area on Monday will potentially bring lower temps and gusty westerly winds. Smoke will continue to be visible from the interior of the burn area for the foreseeable future and is most likely until a season ending event such as substantial rain or winter weather affects the fire area.
